STEP 7: INTO ACTION

There was true humility and deep surrender by asking God to take all of me – both the “good” and the “bad.” This was an admission that I could not trust myself to differentiate between the two.

I almost drank after five months of sobriety before going into the 12-step process with my sponsor. He wisely pointed out the obvious fact that my mind lied to me. It was not to be trusted!

I needed a higher power (God) to see the truth about myself. What an ego-shattering revelation! Yet, it was necessary to give up on myself and trust God to take over my recovery.

It is said that, “Self cannot rid self of self with self.”

In Step Three, I had asked God to remove the “bondage of self” with only a scant idea of what that was. But Steps Four and Five provided a better view of my defects of character and shortcomings. (Bill W. stated these words were to be used simultaneously or in the same context – please note Step Seven on page 59 in the Big Book uses the word “shortcomings” rather than “defects of character,” as in the prayer above).

It is important to notice that the Seventh Step prayer ends with the word “Amen.” Meaning so be it, this indicates a conclusion. However, there is no “Amen” following the Third Step Prayer, or those in Steps Four, Five and Six! Why?

I think it’s because Step Seven concludes a process: In Step Three we ask to be relieved of the bondage of self, but we don’t know what that is until we do Steps Four and Five.

By Step seven we know more precisely what we are asking God to remove from us as we go out to do His bidding. The process has been concluded; however, more will be revealed.

By Bob S.

7th Step Prayer

My Creator, I am now willing that you should have all of me, good and bad. I pray that you now remove from me every single defect of character which stands in the way of my usefulness to you and my fellows. Grant me strength, as I go out from here, to do your bidding. Amen.

Step 7: Daily Reflection

Giving Up Center Stage
July 12

For without some degree of humility, no alcoholic can stay sober at all. . . . Without it, they cannot live to much useful purpose, or, in adversity, be able to summon the faith that can meet any emergency.

12 Steps & 12 Traditions p. 70

Why do I balk at the word "humility"? I am not humbling myself toward other people, but toward God, as I understand Him. Humility means "to show submissive respect," and by being humble I realize I am not the center of the universe. When I was drinking, I was consumed by pride and self-centeredness. I felt the entire world revolved around me, that I was master of my destiny. Humility enables me to depend more on God to help me overcome obstacles, to help me with my own imperfections, so that I may grow spiritually. Daily communion with God demonstrates my humility and provides me with the realization that an entity more powerful than I is willing to help me if I cease trying to play God myself.

Step 8: Daily Reflection

A Clean Sweep
August 13

. . . and third, having thus cleaned away the debris of the past, we consider how, with our newfound knowledge of ourselves, we may develop the best possible relations with every human being we know.

12 Steps & 12 Traditions p. 77

As I faced the Eighth Step, everything that was required for successful completion of the previous seven Steps came together: courage, honesty, sincerity, willingness and thoroughness, I could not muster the strength required for this task at the beginning, which is why this Step reads "Became willing. . . ." I needed to develop the courage to begin, the honesty to see where I was wrong, a sincere desire to set things right, thoroughness in making a list, and willingness to take the risks required for true humility. With the help of my Higher Power in developing these virtues, I completed this Step and continued to move forward in my quest for spiritual growth.

STEP 8: INTO ACTION

The Big Book infers that we are to take stock honestly (p 64). My sponsor took this direction seriously with me because I had almost slipped after five months sober. I was informed that my mind was not always honest and that I must appeal to God for help while writing my Step Eight inventory.

I was reminded that Bill Wilson wrote about the “...Great Reality deep down within us.” (p 55). This would be my source to find the unvarnished truth, rather than my deceitful alcho-logical thinking which led me to the bar room, year after year.

So, I prayed to God repeatedly — like a mantra. As I wrote, with God’s help, there appeared ever so many memories of people I had harmed. These included having my name appearing in the local newspaper, over and over, for public intoxication which had to embarrass my wonderful Christian parents.

Also, my younger sister when she entered high school because of the dismal reputation I left behind. I went on a two-week drinking binge during my senior year!

Reviewing this process, I began to realize how dishonest with myself I had been through all those drunken years. It is easy to suppress unpleasant memories, thus avoiding the accompanying guilt. Of course, without guilt, nothing changes!

I will be forever grateful to my sponsor for his direction and Big Book knowledge on this step. We are told not to regret the past nor wish to shut the door on it (p 83). I am still susceptible to guilt feelings to a certain degree, but not overwhelmingly.

I have done what I can to make things right. Also, we are told about amends we cannot make: “We don’t worry about them if we can honestly say we would right them if we could.”
